THE LEGEND OF THE FITZGERALDS

The history of the Belles Rives begins with a discovery: the "Lost Generation", composed of a disenchanted youth and artists broken by the First World War, heads to the South of France and invents the Côte d'Azur.

It's here that he writes his masterpiece, "Tender is The Night", transforming Villa Saint Louis into a resort for wealthy Americans discovering the pleasures of wild partying and swimming in the sea.

A life lived at night, with Champagne, extravagance, sweet decadence... and the Fitzgeralds make Juan les Pins the place to be, in vogue, where the jet-set of the era like to slum it while cultivating a certain idea of modernity.

It's in 1929 that the villa, seeped in history, becomes the Belles Rives hotel. At the same time, a thousand miles from the Mediterranean, Boma Estène breaks with his native Russia and goes off to discover the "City of Light", Paris, and then Antibes, making his life-long dreams come true.

The Belles Rives, the first hotel on the water along the Côte d'Azur, is born.

LA PASSAGÈRE

RESTAURANT GASTRONOMIQUE

Newly designed in 2016, our Michelin Star restaurant La Passagère evolves around the sea and the sea only.

The restaurant's dessert menu will still include a sugar blown dish called the "pearl in blown sugar shell," the signature dessert from Pastry Chef Steve Moracchini, who was awarded the 2016 Pastry Chef of the Year from Gault & Millau.

Its terrace is one of the French Riviera's most attractive places to enjoy an elegant Mediterranean cuisine.

At the Piano Bar Fitzgerald, time stands still in this place where elegance and fine lifestyle walk hand in hand.

A magic cove nestled at the beginning of the Cap d'Antibes, the Belles Rives Beach embodies the soul and the atmosphere of Francis Scott Fitzgerald's "Tender is the Night".

The club provides a terraced sun-deck, a sandy beach, a jetty with private boats dock and water sports, a lounge bar and a restaurant next to the water.

Summer flavoured dishes with a Provençal influence are proposed everyday at the Beach Restaurant : grilled fish, salad bar, scampi skewers...all accompanied by a chilly glass of rosé wine!

The home made pastries, daily realized by our Pastry Chef Steve Moracchini (awarded Pastry Chef of the Year in 2016) can be enjoyed at the Beach Bar & Restaurant or taken away.

Swimming lessons, aquagym, fitness and ... waterski !

With the first rays of sunshine, the Belles Rives Ski Nautique Club welcomes beginners and pros on the pier of the hotel : ski rides, high-rising parachute rides ski bus, banana boat rides...
